MURDER TRIAL SET FOR TODAY POSTPONED TO FRIDAY MORNING

The case of the State vs. Kruger, set on the docket for today, was postponed owing to the fact that Judge Averill late yesterday afternoon resolved to postpone the hearing until Friday, so as to save the county the expense of holding the jurors over tomorrow, which is a non-judicial day owing to the proclamation of the governor declaring a holiday in honor of the entry of Italy in the war.

Every venireman residing in Tonopah or vicinity who could be reached last evening was notified that his presence would not be required but the outside witnesses, repeating a small percentage of the cost, will be allowed their per diem and mileage as usual.

The list of jurors called for the trial is as follows:

OVATION TO MRS. KLUEGAL AT AIRDOME RED CROSS RECEPTION

Every seat in the Airdome was filled last evening, and many were standing, long before the hour when Mrs. Harry B. Kluegal, head of the Pacific coast division of the Junior Red Cross, began her address on the scope of the Red Cross work and the manifold duties of mercy the members are called upon to perform. The meeting was called to order by Hugh Henry Brown, who gave an interesting resume of the war conference which he attended at Reno last week. His description of Lieutenant Paul Perigord's modest appeal and intense experiences on the battle front held and fired his listeners. Mr. Brown then happily introduced the speaker of the evening in appreciative terms.

Mrs. Kluegal first read a telegram from Governor Boyle telling of the proposed auction of wool from the White House sheep, which is to be apportioned to the extent of two pounds to Nevada and auctioned to the highest bidder. The governor has decided to have Nevada's portion woven into a Red Cross flag, which will be auctioned and treasured as a lasting memento of these war-torn times.

The visitor went over carefully the detailed work of the Red Cross activities, dealing most fearfully with the atrocities of the Hun and the sore need of every woman, every man, every child giving till it hurts to help those boys who are standing between us and the Hun to protect and save us from the fearful fate of Belgium, the awful suffering of the prisoners in the German camps, and the safeguarding of the homes of our nation. Christianity, democracy and civilization are in the hands of the United States today and it is up to all Americans to help maintain the good work through the efficient aid offered by the Red Cross in all the countries of the battling nations. She urged putting politics aside while the war lasts. Let there be no political creed, she informed, but the one of patriotism, for it is this one unification of spirit, heart and soul, which will bring victory to the world.

Mrs. Kluegal made a stirring statement in eulogy of the president. "He is," she exclaimed, "the greatest spiritual leader since Christ. The president has been considered by all as the greatest asset of civilization today."

The attention of the audience was called to the good work done by the Junior Red Cross on exhibition in the domestic science rooms. It includes garments for all refugees and the boys are steadily adding their contributions of canes and furniture.

The high school orchestra contributed the music for the evening, and the audience joined with the girl and boys Scouts in singing "My Own Nevada." The program was under the auspices of the Junior Red Cross, of which Mrs. Hugh Henry Brown is chairman. Mrs. Kluegal left for Carson this morning in the interests of the Red Cross work.

SOMETHING DOING IN MANHATTAN CON.

Reports are rife today that something important is about to happen regarding the future management of Manhattan Consolidated. According to this story the company has instructed Superintendent Page to prepare a shipment of a carload of ore to be sent to the Goldfield Consolidated mill for chemical analysis, with a view to ascertaining what is the best form of treatment. On this experiment will depend the future action of the management, which is said to be contemplating a mill. The action was hastened by John H. Miller, president of the company, who has been here several days looking after the interests of his stockholders with a view to getting quick action on the property. The stock sold down to 4c this afternoon, a depreciation of 50 per cent in a week.

This morning a party consisting of C. C. Boak, John H. Miller, Harry Epstine, John G. Kirchen and Jack McQuillan went over to Manhattan.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT BUTLER THEATRE

T. W. Chapman of the high school faculty is busy this afternoon in Percy's drug store making reservations of seats for the senior class play, "Camouflage." All who have purchased 50-cent tickets or who may purchase such tickets are entitled to reserve their seats without further expense. This will be the great event of the present year for the schools. The high school orchestra will play several selections between the acts of the comedy. The high school girls' glee club of 30 voices has been doing good work under Miss Ida Brewington and will make their first public appearance at this entertainment under the direction of Mr. Cross. H. W. Stotesbury has worked wonders with his boys' orchestra of mandolins, mandolas, and guitars and it is a delight to hear them play. They will appear Thursday evening. Miss Grace Russell, who is coaching and directing the play, assures the public that there will be no long waits between acts. The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

Curley Munro, the silvery toned Irish tenor, will entertain tonight in Irish ballads. Madge Kennedy, the wonderful girl of the screen and the most brilliant comedienne on the stage or screen. There is none like her. No one can even approach the striking individuality that marked her appearance in Goldwyn comedies. Tonight she is starred in "The Danger Game," it being the strongest play ever assigned to Madge Kennedy, and the part of Clytie Rogers is the only dramatic role she has ever assayed. Yet the play is such a clever mixture of melodrama and comedy that excitement, suspense, heart throbs and smiles follow one another in rapid succession. Miss Kennedy has the part of Clytie Rogers, a society girl, whose great ambition is to write a big novel. When she writes her book it is received coldly and, disgusted and resentful, Clytie sets forth to prove that the incidents she invented for her heroine can really happen to a girl. Her amazing adventures cause her to elope with a man, then elude him at the moment of the nuptials. She becomes a full-fledged burglar and when about to be apprehended resorts to a novel way to circumvent her captor. "The Danger Game" is considered a 100 per cent story, exactly the sort of offering desired by the public. Also Hearst-Pathé News today—interesting, educational and amusing.

MASONIC MEETING
A regular convocation of Tonopah chapter No. 12, R. A. M., will be held in the Masonic hall Wednesday evening, May 22, at 7:30. Royal Arch degree. By order of High Priest.

Geo. A. Southworth, Secretary.
